

MELITEK statement on Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic

March 20, 2020

In the light of the current evolving coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, we wish to assure you we are taking all necessary steps to protect our dedicated employees, valued customers and trusted partners.

We have adopted several internal measures to ensure the safety of our staff and in order to keep our operations running going forward based on the wise recommendations from the World Health Organization, local health agencies and governments. Fortunately, Denmark have been early mover on implementing harsh safety measures to prevent spreading of the coronavirus, which we fully support and have adopted.

We are pleased to inform you that MELITEK is currently in full operation without inbound/outbound supply interruptions on current or forecasted orders. Our trusted suppliers report no supply disruptions besides minor transit delays. We have daily updates from logistics partners who report no shipping issues to any of our major markets, besides some delays in transit times due to closed borders.

We appreciate your understanding that as coronavirus (COVID-19) situation continue to develop unprecedented on a daily basis, we are only able to respond based on current circumstances and unable to predict how situations evolve outside our control that will affect our ability operate. We will therefore immediately inform our customer if the situation changes in a way that we cannot maintain supply of ordered products.

Finally, we wish to express our heartfelt solidarity and sincere gratitude to all healthcare staff working vigilance and tirelessly worldwide to treat victims of COVID-19. In their support and to reduce spreading of the coronavirus, please stay safe by taking care.

Please contact us if you have any further question on this matter.
